

Administrative Authority and Tracking of Amendments to the PIPP

Interior Health, through its Infectious Hazards Emergency Response Planning Task Force, maintains the PIPP in collaboration with its health authority leads. Lessons learned from the second revision of the plan, and the completion of future exercises, will be used to evaluate this plan prior to activation. Post-activation lessons learned, after action reports, and other information will also be collected and utilized in the evaluation and review of the PIPP. Health Service Areas (HSAs) and other programs/departments within IH will also be asked to consider and develop methods to evaluate their own responses/updates to this plan.

Comments and recommendations for changes to the PIPP should be directed to:
