Interior Health update on COVID-19 cluster at Big White

KELOWNA – The following is an update about the Big White Mountain COVID-19 community cluster initially declared on Dec. 15, 2020:

- A total of 237 people have tested positive for COVID-19 and linked to this cluster.
- No new cases of COVID-19 were confirmed since our last report on Feb. 19.
- A total of five COVID-19 cases are currently active and in self-isolation.
- Since reporting this cluster, 232 people have recovered.
- Of the 237 cases of COVID-19 linked to this cluster, 150 have resided and/or worked on Big White Mountain.

COVID-19 continues to circulate in all communities throughout the Interior.

Most of the transmission related to this community cluster has occurred at social events and gatherings and everyone is reminded that socialization must be limited to immediate household bubbles.

Interior Health is thankful for the ongoing support of local community leaders and reminds everyone not to stigmatize or judge others who seek testing or test positive for COVID-19.

IH will release regular updates on this community cluster on Fridays and in addition, everyone is encouraged to monitor the BCCDC website for ongoing COVID-19 data.

Everyone in all communities should remain vigilant in following COVID-19 precautions:

- Keep to your household bubbles and avoid social gatherings.
- Stay home when you are sick and get tested if you have any symptoms consistent with COVID-19.
- Practise physical distancing.
- Wear a mask.
- Wash your hands often.
- Avoid all non-essential travel.
