NOTE: YOU HAVE RECEIVED INTRAVENOUS (IV) SEDATION.

This means that you are legally impaired.

DO NOT drive, operate equipment, sign legal or financial papers, or drink alcohol until 24 hours after your procedure.

After Your ERCP:

It is normal to:

- Feel drowsy or light-headed from the sedation
- Have a feeling of fullness or burp often due to the air put into the stomach during the test. Moving more (e.g. walking) may help to ease gas discomfort.
- Have a mild sore throat, slight hoarseness, or a dry cough for up to 2 days. Use lozenges or gargle with warm salt water to soothe.
- Have some redness, pain, or swelling at the site where the medication was injected into your vein. A warm facecloth placed over the site may help any pain or swelling.

You should:

- Rest for the remainder of the day
- Resume your normal diet and fluid intake unless told otherwise by your doctor.
- Resume your regular medications, unless told otherwise by your doctor.

NOTIFY YOUR DOCTOR IF YOU HAVE ANY OF THE FOLLOWING:

- Increasing or unrelieved (severe) stomach pain or nausea
- Flu-like symptoms (vomiting, fever, or chills)
- Difficulty breathing
- nausea and vomiting
- Vomiting blood or passing black stool

If outside of office hours, go to the nearest Emergency Department for assessment and treatment.
