

Clean Your Hands Right Before Eating

How many things did you touch before touching food?

The most common way for you to get an infection is from your hands and then mouth.

Cleaning your hands immediately before eating helps prevent infections such as colds and flus.