

Research Ethics Board Application Deadlines 2023

The Interior Health Research Ethics Board (IH REB) reviews new studies and post-approval activities (Renewals, Amendments, Safety Reports, Protocol Deviations) that require full board review at regularly scheduled meetings, held the first Thursday of each month except August. In exceptional circumstances, a meeting may be added to the schedule.

Deadlines for receipt of applications requiring full board review for 2022 is 12:00 noon on the Monday three weeks prior to the meeting. If the deadline falls on a statutory holiday, applications will be accepted up until 12:00 noon on the next business day. Applications are reviewed in the order they are received. Investigators and research staff are encouraged to submit applications prior to the deadline. Incomplete applications will not be reviewed and will be returned to the applicant.

If you are submitting via RISE, please allow at least two business days for the UBC Departmental Review. The REB does not receive the application until after this is completed.
